

Jobs

SLO: Students will investigate different jobs involved in farming, production, marketing and cooking King salmon.

INTRODUCTION:

Aquaculture, or marine farming, is a growing industry in New Zealand because we have such a large coastline and more people are eating fish and shellfish. There are many jobs in aquaculture, from being a fish scientist to marketing and selling seafood around the world, to working on a marine farm or driving a truck.

WHAT YOU WILL NEED:

- Jobs activity sheet – 1 per student
- Jobs photo sheet – 1 per student

ACTIVITY:

Using the photos, students discuss careers in aquaculture and what job they might be interested in doing.

ACTIVITY SHEET

Jobs

Look at the images, choose one and:

1. Describe what job they do.
2. Talk about what they wear for their job.
3. Draw yourself doing it, with the extra tools, safety gear and equipment you think you would need.
4. Explain why you chose it and what extra equipment you've drawn.
